Comprehensive Care – Resource Guide: Case Review 2020

This resource guide provides recommendations and examples of evidence-based and evidence-informed approaches to case (care) review.

Case History Example - Sandra

The Case History Example – Sandra – presents completed examples of the relevant CIMHA 5.0 documentation that would typically be developed during a consumer's progression through services across different presentations. This includes a number of examples of Case Review documentation.

Active Inclusion Case (care) Review Demonstration videos

Continuing the 'Sandra scenario,' these videos provide a demonstration of reviewing and coordinating a consumer's care using an active inclusion care review approach (via Zoom). Below is a list and description of each of the videos available in this series.

1. Pre-case (care) review meeting (5:54) In line with good practice for meaningful and collaborative discussions during a Case (care) Review, this video demonstrates the primary clinician meeting with Sandra prior to the meeting to: 1) share relevant documents (e.g. care plan, results of outcome measures etc.); 2) check understanding; 3) support a consumer's input and preferred language in their review document and; 4) plan matters such as who the consumer would like to attend the planned meeting.
2. Active Inclusion Case (care) Review Demonstration – Part I - (11:31) This video demonstrates key features that can be included in a consumer's first Novel Planned Case (care) Review via videoconference. These include review of progress and any changes since last review; how outcome measures can be used in a review; seeking collateral from stakeholders; and monitoring of domains such as physical health.
3. Active Inclusion Case (care) Review Demonstration – Part II – (6:15) Continuing the Case (care) Review meeting demonstration with Sandra, this final section considers the formulation and recent risk assessment as part of Case (care) Review, and goals and actions that may need to be updated or included for the next period of care.
